

WILSON FIRM IN TARIFF CRISIS

Stands Pat on Free Wool and Free Sugar; May Put Matter
Up to the People

HE DECLARES CLOTHES
AND FOOD MUST BE CHEAP

Believes Passage of Tariff Bill
Will Restore Enterprise;
Bring Prosperity

WASHINGTON, April 12.—President Wilson won the first test of strength when the house Democratic caucus defeated Senator Broussard's amendment to the tariff bill reducing sugar only 10 per cent, by a vote of 85 to 16.

(By John Nevlin, United Press Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—President Wilson is standing pat on the free sugar and wool proposition. The crisis of the tariff fight finds him ready to carry the matter to the people if necessary.

"What the people put on their backs and in their stomachs must be cheap, no matter who suffers." This was his final word to the Senate financiers.

The President insisted to callers today that the passage of the tariff bill will not be disastrous to the country. He sees no reason for compromise, and believes that the people will support him in his effort to compel tariff readjustment. Wilson said that the country's business is staggering under masses of stock on which dividends must be paid by the prices charged to the consumer. He believes that American enterprise and competition will be restored under the bill. Manufacturers will enlarge their plants to meet competition and the country will enter on a period of real prosperity.

Wilson said: "I am always afraid of business men who are so uneasy to have something to be uneasy about.
The American people are taking notice in a way they never took notice before, and the gentlemen who are always talking one way and voting another are going to be retired to a quiet, private life."

Directing attention to the position he took when it was charged that the tariff hit the farmer, he said:

"The American farmer has never been protected because he never needed protection, but everything he used on the farm, everything worn, and much that is eaten, including meats, bear a heavy duty, bringing the interesting result that the farmers are paying for a great deal of the wealth of the American but getting nothing so far as the tariff is concerned. It is notorious that many members of the senate finance committee did not know the significance of the tariff schedules reported by that committee in the Payne bill. It was always said that the tariff did not determine prices because so much competition within the country kept competition and trade on a level, but haven't you seen competition disappear? Haven't you attended by proxy congressional hearings, and court trials where the whole process was disclosed?"

W. Thomas is apparently recovering rapidly under the Friedmann rapidly gaining strength. After watching the case, Dr. Garcelon said:

"Dr. Friedmann offers more in the way of a tuberculosis cure than we have ever had before. I base this statement on my own experiences with the serum. In none of my cases has it failed.
I expect it to do all that is claimed for it."

SNATCHED FROM REVELS; HALED BEFORE PROBERS

Women Wept, Men Defiant; Wage Probe Will Hear Testimony as to Sights They Saw

CHICAGO, April 12.—Following a raid by subpoena servers acting for the legislative committee that is investigating women's starvation wages, a score of Chicago's smart set will stand out prominently today as witnesses. They were snatched from the great cafes at midnight during the night's revelries and cabaret performers.

Two prominent women of Peoria, Ill., went into hysterics when ordered to get into an automobile to go before the legislative probers in session at the La Salle Hotel. Many men tried to bribe the subpoena servers with bills of large denominations, and the women vainly pleaded. When the witnesses arrived at the hotel Lieut. Gov.
O'Harra calmly invited them to be seated. The women were tearful, the men defiant.

All were compelled to testify regarding what they had seen in the cafes during the evening. Much of the testimony centered about the alleged indecency of the dancers. The members of the fashionable set had not been examined when the probers closed the hearing at 2 o'clock this morning. It was stated that they would come up to testify before the probers later in the day.

Following the conference, the probers announced that they would not publish the names of the society witnesses. Lieut. Gov. O'Harra said, however, that one of the Peoria women was the divorced wife of a prominent publisher, and also said that the other woman was equally prominent. Four of the male guests subpoenaed at the cafes are prominent in the business world, one a capitalist, another a manufacturer, the third a broker, and the fourth a member of the board of trade.

JAPAN EXCITED OVER ALIEN LAND BILL

Directs Ambassador to Appeal to President Against Passing California Measure

TOKIO, April 12.—The Japanese are growing excited over the probability of the passage of the California anti-alien land bill, and feeling is intense throughout the entire country.
The minister of foreign affairs has sent new instructions to Ambassador Chinda at Washington to protest against California's action. The ambassador is ordered to point out to President Wilson that the passage of the proposed bill would conflict with existing treaties.

SAY TOKIO FEAR IS NOT JUSTIFIED

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—The agitation in political and business circles in Tokio over the proposed alien land law now pending before the California legislature is not justified by the facts in the case, according to members of the Senate who read the dispatch from the Japanese capital.
No confiscation is planned, and the Japanese have been misinformed as to our intentions.

Lands now held by aliens may be retained forever for all that this bill is concerned.

The only restrictions are on land to be acquired hereafter whether by lease of purchase, gift, devise or otherwise. The bill limits all future leases to three years.

EACH UNDERSTANDS WHAT OTHER WANTS

P.E. Officials Get Point of View of Santa Ana on Various Matters Concerning Their Relations

The get-together meeting of the Pacific Electric officials and the Santa Ana representatives yesterday afternoon bore fruit. It produced the desired result. It made the position of each side clear, and brought about an understanding that will bring about better feeling, though neither the city nor the railroad may get everything that is asked. As a result of the meeting it is probable that the P. E. will soon discontinue the use of steam trains on East Second street, a lower passenger rate may be given on the Los Angeles-Santa Ana line, better service will be secured on the Santa Ana-Balboa line, and P. E. tracks may be extended east on East Fourth street to the city limits. Other matters were discussed. So far as the P. E. was concerned, it at present requests two things of the city, one a franchise for a spur track off of the North Main street on to the Southern Pacific line at Santa Clara avenue and the other a franchise for a curved track at the northwest corner of Fourth and Main streets.

The meeting was held in the office of Frank Ey, president of the Santa Ana City Trustees. The Pacific Electric officials who were present were Paul Shoup, vice-president; J. McMillan, general manager; D. W. Pontius, traffic manager; Johnson, engineer;
D. V. Hill, special agent. The city trustees and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants & Manufacturers' association were on hand as representing Santa Ana in the conference.

City Trustee George McPhee was spokesman for the Santa Anans, he having been chosen for that responsibility at a meeting of the local men the night previous. McPhee outlined the things that Santa Ana's representatives think the Pacific Electric ought to do.

He said that the double track from Stanton to Santa Ana should be completed, as agreed to when Santa Ana gave the right-of-way for the building of the Santa Ana line. Better car-service should be given on the Santa Ana line, to include at least two floors each day. Santa Ana ought to have a lower rate for passenger service. The service to Newport Beach ought to be improved, either by putting through cars on the line or else arranging the schedule so that long waits at Huntington Beach would be dispensed with. McPhee said that on one of the morning trips, passengers must wait about an hour.

The P. E. ought to maintain its right-of-way on the city streets properly at all times, and should remove the granite blocks that have proved unsatisfactory and replace with a proper pavement. Steam cars should no longer be run on East Second street, as was agreed to by the P. E. when a franchise was given allowing a connection with the P. E. The P. E. ought to extend its tracks out East Fourth street to the city limits, according to its franchise.

Vice-president Shoup did practically all of the talking for the railway.
The entire proceedings was business-like, neither side beating around the bush on any point that was raised.
Shoup stated that the double-tracking between Santa Ana and Stanton

ITALIAN DEAD OF TOADSTOOL POISON

Toadstools eaten raw last Sunday brought death last night to Antonio Bonfatti.

Bonfatti was a wanderer, a native of Italy, aged 40 years. Last Sunday after begging something to eat at San Juan Capistrano he went up the San Juan canyon, where he discovered a lot of mushrooms growing. He ate mushrooms raw, and with them a quantity of toadstools. He was found beside the road frightfully sick, and was brought to Santa Ana by County Physician Wehrly.

The man never recovered from the effects of the toadstool poisoning. The poison had been in his stomach too long before the physician arrived, and every effort to save the man failed.

So far as can be learned, the man has no relatives living, at least not in this section. He will be buried by the city.

17-YEAR OLD GIRL BURNS TO DEATH

Explosion While Lighting Incubator Results in Death of West Anaheim Girl

FATHER ARRIVES TOO LATE TO AID

Miss Lydia Hahn Lived Only Twelve Hours After Explosion Occurred

From burns received in an explosion that occurred while she was filling an incubator tank, Miss Lydia Hahn, aged 17 years, died yesterday at her home at West Anaheim.

The girl was the daughter of Julius S. Hahn. Thursday evening she went to the basement of the house to look after an incubator that was there. She attempted to fill the tank while the incubator was lighted, with the result that there was a sudden explosion that threw burning oil all over the girl.

Screaming, the girl ran from the cellar up the steps. Her father had heard the explosion and screams, and was rushing to the cellar when his daughter, all aflame, met him. The man smothered the flames quickly, but the girl had already been fatally burned. The wounds were all over her body, and it was soon apparent that she could not live. Twelve hours after receiving the burns, she died.

CITRUS TARIFF MEMORIAL PASSED

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—The Senate today adopted a resolution memorializing Congress against the reduction of citrus fruit tariff below the point of equalization of cost of production in this country and foreign countries and providing for a tion was introduced by the Senate committee on federal relations as a substitute for the resolution heretofore introduced by Sanford and Campbell containing no regulation against tariff reduction. The adoption of the resolution was marked by bitter debate between the Democrats and Progressives.

TRUCE REACHED IN BUFFALO STAKE

Car Service Resumed Pending Arbitration of Some Unsettled Point

BUFFALO, April 12.—Service has been resumed on all car lines, following the strikers' ratification of a truce agreement providing for arbitration of the matters at issue between the employees and the street car company.

The strikers included the motor-men and conductors of the International Railway Company, and began last Saturday. It was settled yesterday through the mediation of Mayor Fuhrman. Both sides made concessions.

The strike leaders accepted the company's suggestion that questions which cannot be settled mutually be left to three arbitrators instead of having Mayor Fuhrman act alone.

STARTED WORK ON BUILDING

Many Improvements Made In Plans for Athletic Club Structure

Enthusiasm for the new athletic club which has been shown ever since the formation of the club was first started has continued, and today after about a month the actual construction of the building has begun. The basement of the building has already been dug, and the building is ready for the cement foundation. Construction up to this point has been slower than it will be on the rest of the building on account of the great amount of excavation which was necessary and also on account of the changes in the plans. Many improvements in the plans as they were first suggested have been made and no expense is being spared to make the building the very best possible for the use for which it is intended. Mr. Rensberg, who is looking after the construction of the building and who is also the principal stockholder, said that the building would be rushed to completion at the very earliest day so that the plunge could be thrown open to the use of the public by the first of June. The athletic club quarters will also be ready about the same time.

One of the features of the building is the large heating plant which is planned for the building. This plant when installed will cost $2000 and will keep the water warm for the plunge and also furnish steam heat for the entire building. The plant is to be located in the basement.

The membership has been steadily increased. Every day there have been new names added to the membership list. More liberal payments have been made to the members so that a full membership can be obtained. Those who have joined the club so far have been young men who are good in the different kinds of sports and special efforts are being made to have good athletes enroll so that good teams of the various sports can be organized.

The work of securing a physical director is also being taken up. Letters have been written to the athletic clubs of the state and also the colleges for applications for this position. No expense will be spared in securing a man for the position who is thoroughly capable of turning out good teams as well as capable of furnishing expert instruction on the work of swimming and other gymnastic exercises. This director will conduct lessons in the gymnasium and also furnish instruction in swimming.

The athletic club will of course be located in the second story of the new building, which, when completed, will cost a little over $8000. The athletic club members will have the free use of the entire building, which will include the plunge, 70 by 30 feet in measurement, a fully equipped gymnasium, with shower baths, lockers, etc., also club rooms which will have two billiard and pool tables. The gymnasium is built so that indoor basketball games can be arranged with other teams throughout the southern part of the state. In case a good team is organized, no team in the state will be barred. There are some very good players in Orange county who could be secured.

These and many other features will no doubt create a great deal of enthusiasm among the young men of Santa Ana and make it very popular. The prospects were never brighter for a clean proposition like this for Santa Ana.

The erection of the plunge and athletic club is absolutely certain and there is no chance for it to fail. Enough money is already in the treasury to assure it, and the element of a stock proposition does not enter into it at all.

MINNESOTA FIRST WITH MOTHERS' PENSION LAW

In the flood of legislation of the year extending the field of state help of the dependent, the action of Minnesota in providing a pension for mothers is a conspicuous novelty. Governor Elihu has affixed his signature to the act that provides for the pension of $10 a month for each child to the mother on proof of inability to care for her family. No estimate has been made of the extent of the burden to the finances of the state by the new departure, but it is significant that it is expected to be restrained by the fact that there is a full publicity to all requests. The use of the term pension is a bit strained in this application. It would seem to be more accurate to speak of it as graduated charity, the pension not being supposed to be linked to pauperism but to be a measure of prevention. None the less, Minnesota will be given due credit for a new addition to the lengthening list of paternal projects of government.

AT THE COMMERCIAL

[By Roy Carver] The Santa Ana Commercial High appears to have a reputation to be proud of. Judging from the way educators from all over the Southland come to investigate it, we are led to think so, at least.

Principal Hill and Miss Sadalia Cubison of Ontario High examined our work early in the week.

On Thursday morning, Prof. George of the Commercial Department in the San Bernardino High, made a friendly call. He spent most of the morning in the different classrooms in order to get a good idea of the work in general. Mr. George gave us reasons to believe that he was well pleased with his visit, and only regretted not having more time to spend in the city.

Prof. F. M. Watenpaugh of Chaffey Union High looked in on us Friday. In addition to his visit to all departments, he gave a pleasing talk to one of the debating classes that was electing its new officers for the next quarter.

Thursday morning, the Junior English Class of the Commercial High School was favored with a very instructive talk upon Newspaper Writing, by T. E. Stephenson, city editor of the Register.

He emphasized the fact that the main points of a story should be written in the heading and first paragraph. Among the principles to be adhered to in the newspaper writing, stress was laid upon the following: Clearness, conciseness, free use of the dictionary, short sentences, careful punctuation, and full details.

The Junior English Class has been making a special study of magazines.

Miss Donald Winning of Los Gatos is visiting Miss Lapum of our Shortland Department.

The Commercial has taken one more step preparatory to moving into the Polytechnic buildings next year. As a result of Prof. Hughes' resignation, the Commercial has been incorporated with the Regular High. This was generally expected to take place in the coming fall.

Although we are all one big family now, under the supervision of Principal McMath, we still retain some features which make us a separate institution.

OPTIMIST SAYS STANTON CITIZENS ARE STILL LOYAL

Stanton Optimist: Stanton is now experiencing trials that will test its citizenship, and will clearly place on record for either loyalty or disloyalty, all those who live within the city's confines. It is hard for the average normal individual to understand how any sensible person can maintain the attitude of pernicious activity which is being persisted in by certain Stanton citizens in an endeavor to discredit this city abroad and to fasten upon it at home a pest that, once established, would bring ruin and disaster upon the entire community. We refer to those individuals who are going about seeking by unreasonable and altogether devilish methods to bring about Stanton's disincorporation as a city of the sixth class. We are willing to concede that some of those who favor disincorporation may be honest but ignorant in their intentions, and for their enlightenment as to Anaheim's intentions to establish a sewer farm here, should our citizens be so foolish as to disincorporate Stanton, we say that Anaheim's city attorney, we are reliably informed, but recently made a statement to the effect that Anaheim would establish a sewer farm on its property in Stanton if it takes fifty years to do it. We appeal to whatever intelligence these individuals may possess, if an expression of this kind from such authority does not justify all loyal Stanton citizens in viewing any assurances of Anaheim's official friendship with at least a little suspicion? Stanton has no means of safeguarding its interests and protecting its homes against Anaheim's blighting encroachment except through its board of city trustees, acting under incorporation, and if by any chance the city should become disincorporated the folly of such a movement would become all too immediately apparent by Anaheim's activity in establishing at once its sewer farm right in the heart of Stanton.

If Stanton's city trustees had been reckless in the management of the city's affairs or had been extravagant in the expenditure of its money, there might be just cause for complaint, but even that would not justify its citizens in committing a still greater wrong. We are glad to

[By Nettie Crutchfield]

One of the most rousing games of baseball was recently held at Huntington Beach, between the Huntington Beach Grammar School and Lincoln. Our boys seemed to be out to win, and went into the game with a "do or die" expression on their faces. It did not take long for the team to show the Huntington Beach boys that they were up against a hard proposition. The team work was splendid, and after a fine game our boys came home victorious, the score being 13 to 8.

The team went to Garden Grove Friday, and before the game had progressed very far, the Garden Grove team saw that it would have to fight hard if it won anything, and fight it did. But it was useless.

Our boys were in perfect training, and moved like clockwork, with everybody attending strictly to business. As a result of this, the score at the end of the game, 4 to 1, was in favor of Lincoln.

There was an error in the report of the Lincoln-Spurgeon Track Meet, in the statement that George Despart, the "shark" in the 50, 100 and 220 yard dashes, was a Spurgeon student. He is a Lincoln eighth grader, and the school is justly proud of his work at the Meet.

The eighth graders had a most interesting debate last Friday, on the question: "Resolved, That city life is better than country life." Those taking part were as follows:

Affirmative—Freda Shroder, Mary Merino.

Negative—George Despart, Harry Adams.

The argument and delivery were especially creditable, but the negatives won the favorable decision from the judges.

It is generally conceded that the teachers, co-operating with the Vice-Principal, Mrs. Webber, will be able to make this a banner year for the Commercial.

If the people of Santa Ana noticed a decided tendency towards melancholy on the part of the high school students on Friday last, they should not feel shocked. A solution will easily be found in the fact that Friday was "Report Card Day" in the Santa Ana High.

state, however, that there is no cause for just criticism of any of the board's official acts, and Stanton probably enjoys the distinction of being the only city in the state that has a surplus in its treasury without having any outstanding bonded indebtedness or other debts it cannot meet.

GATHERING OSTRICH FEATHERS

The Black and Drab Ones Are Pulled Out But White Ones Carefully Cut Off and Quills Left

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A very small proportion of our ostrich feathers come from the wild birds nowadays. Twenty years ago there were but few ostrich farms, and the great majority of ostrich feathers came from wild birds which were killed by the feather hunters in South Africa.

Of course, after the ostriches were killed the feathers were pulled out, but now that the ostrich farms thrive and the birds are stripped of their plume feathers and turned loose to grow more, greater care has to be taken.

The white ostrich feathers are not fully developed. There are also black and drab feathers on the same bird, but when the white feathers are fully developed they lose a great deal of their whiteness, and in the olden days had to be bleached.

The ostriches are blindfolded with a hood on the farms and led into a sort of crate-like coop, where the black and drab feathers are carefully pulled out; but the white feathers are never pulled out, as this would so damage the great sockets in which the large quills grow that no more would be forthcoming, so the quills of the white feathers are carefully cut off and the quills allowed to remain for several months, when they come out naturally and the new feathers start.

Therefore, practically every genuine unbleached white ostrich feather does not have a complete quill when it is shipped in the rough. The people who prepare these feathers for the markets, however, remedy this easily by adding the end of other quills in so clever a manner that it is scarcely discernable.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Several small shipments of Mexican tomatoes have been received the last few days, one being reported in this morning. A boatload is expected to arrive Sunday; advices were two days ago that it had reached San Diego. The tomatoes thus far received are considered a little under grade in some instances, but have been disposed of quickly. The product was scarce yesterday.

A small shipment of peppers from Florida was in. They were quoted at 30 cents a pound. The small supply of egg plant is a little cheaper, being quoted at 20 cents a pound. It has been held over some little time, and was received from the southern states. Asparagus was a shade higher. White asparagus was quoted around 5 cents a pound, and the green at about 8 to 10 depending on quality. The supply of the very best asparagus seemed to be comparatively limited. One or two dealers quoted Imperial Bermuda onions down $2 a crate yesterday afternoon, although others still held out for $2.25 to $2.50. It is probable that lower prices will prevail generally today, as a car of the vegetable was expected late yesterday, and it is probable that another will be received Monday. These early arrivals are considered quite up to the standard; it is believed that they were picked a little too soon. Artichokes continue about the same, the price being comparatively low.

Good navel oranges were scarce, the price being quoted up in most instances to $3 to $4 a box. Poor fruit is rather plentiful. Newton Pippin apples are less abundant.

Trade was livelier than usual in eggs at the Produce Exchange, with 135 cases sold. The market varied from 21 to 20 1/2 and finally settled at 20 1/2.

Present conditions contribute to keeping prices pretty steady. Some eastern eggs come in, but as the price continues pretty high beyond the Rockies the supply is not large. Practically all of the eggs received go into storage. Dealers say that it has cost 21 to 23 cents a dozen to lay them down, and that consequently they cannot come into competition with the local product. Petaluma eggs are also brought in for storage purposes, about 24 cents being the price laid down for this grade, according to dealers.

Butter continues quite firm, and some are predicting that the market has nearly touched its lowest this season, which if it proves to be the case, will mean a much higher rate than usual.

"Always Air"

ALWAYS AIR is a fluid compound, a small quantity of which, when placed in the inner tube of a pneumatic tire will instantly, automatically and permanently stop all punctures from the smallest to the size of a 20-penny spike.

IT IS NOT A TIRE FILLER

It is not only inexpensive but adds 50 per cent. to the service of tires. It will not injure rubber. It is not affected in its operation by heat or cold. It will not harden, gum, dry up or deteriorate. It will not stick the inner tube to the casing. It cannot come into contact with the casing. It can be changed from one tube to another. It will last for years. It adds practically no weight to the tire (only about three pounds to the largest tire). It fills only a small portion of the inner tube, and the pneumatic quality of the tire is retained.

After picking up a nail in the road, you will always run at least a block and generally a much longer distance on a flat tire. This shortens the life of the casing at least 50 per cent, sometimes ruins it immediately. After having tires treated with our fluid you may remove nails at once or never remove them, and in either case there is no leakage of air.

NURSERY STOCK IS SHIPPED OUT

Orange County Shipping a Lot of Oranges and Lemons to Other Parts of State

INSPECTOR BUSY KEEPING THE PACE

Less Damage Done Here in January Than Other Places
Brings Rich Harvest

Orange county is shipping two and three carloads of nursery stock daily. County Horticultural Commissioner R. K. Bishop is experiencing the busiest period he has had since he went into the office. Shipments must be inspected by him and given his official o. k. as free from pests before the trees can be shipped.

A large share of the shipments are being made from the Villa Park neighborhood, where the James Mills Orchard Co. of Glenn county bought 15,000 trees. Smith & Clark, Thompson, Thurston, Paxton and Handy are among the nurserymen of Villa Park who have been shipping. Each carries about 800 trees. With a double-deck carload to Ventura county this week contained 1200.

On arrival at the point of shipment, the inspector examines the trees to see if they have been dipped. After the car is filled it is fumigated. With this double treatment there is no question but what every scale is killed.

The output of the nurseries of Orange county this year is enormous. Thousands of trees have been sold here for planting. Probabilities of changes in the tariff have had no effect on the acreage being set to Valencia oranges and to lemons.

Nurserymen are getting good prices, about $1.25 a tree being paid for Valencia. Orange county nurseries as a rule got off free from damage in the January cold snaps, while nurseries in nearly every other section of the state were destroyed or set back so that deliveries could not be made this year. That is one reason why the price is up. The county's comparative frostlessness certainly has put a pile of money into the pockets of the nurserymen this year.

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Brewer and Others

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—Testifying at the state board of control investigation of his office, Secretary of State Jordan admitted that he has borrowed money from Mrs. Anita Brewer, a clerk in his office. "I am fearfully embarrassed," Jordan explained, "and make no secret of the fact that I have been assisted by loans from Mrs. Brewer and other persons."

Under questioning he admitted that he knew Mrs. Brewer received money for furnishing auto lists to the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company. He denied any knowledge that she had a contract for this work.

After admitting that he had borrowed money of Mrs. Brewer Jordan was asked why he testified recently he had never received directly or indirectly any money from his office employees. He replied:

"A man sometimes may fail in his recollections."

IN THE JUSTICE COURT CASE OVER TO NEXT FRIDAY

Boys Plead Not Guilty to Disturbing Peace of West
Orange Japanese

This morning four of the five boys arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace of one G. Nishikawa—the G is probably for George—a Japanese employed on the ranch of C. C. Leslie of West Orange, pleaded not guilty to the charge, and their trial was set for next Friday. The boys in court were Lawrence Eaton, who was bitten on both legs and one finger by the Jap, Ellsworth Minner, Louis Briggs and Boyd Preble. Robert E. Payne, also a defendant, was not present in court. Paine evidently was more witness than participant, and expects to have no difficulty in establishing the fact that he in no way disturbed the Jap. The boys assert that the Jap is more to blame than they. Justice Cox expects to hear both sides of the story next Friday. Several witnesses who saw a part or all of the proceedings will be summoned, including those who choked the Jap loose after he had his teeth set in Eaton's finger.

It appears that the boys were together and that one of them in fun tossed a clod at the Jap, who became angered and started a tussle. Some of the accused seem to have taken no part in the affair other than to have attempted to free their comrade after the Jap had his teeth set.

The boys were not represented in court by an attorney.

CHINA WILL AID U.S. IN CRUSHING TONGS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Consul General Li Lung Yew of the Chinese republic recently declared in the conference attended by United States Attorney John L. McNab that the republic of China will support the United States in the deportation of Chinese who enter the United States for the purpose and with the intent of joining the fighting highbinder tongs. He declared that it is a good idea to suppress and wipe out the highbinder tongs. China, he said, has wiped out all the tongs there by a stringent law providing capital punishment for murder.

He declared that the blackmailing highbinder tongs now existing in the United States are a product of American freedom.

"A tong is a family association organized for the good purpose of helping members," said Consul Li, in answer to Coroner Leland's question as just what a tong is. "Gradually, however, the purpose changed to evil, and now it is bad. Neither I nor any other citizen of China likes it."

"In China it is now prohibited. The organization is the same as any other society, I am told."

San Francisco Wireless Operators Plan General Strike In Retaliation

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Because of the discharge of four operators in addition to 29 Marconi operators let out recently, threats of a wireless operators' strike were renewed here today. It is claimed that they were discharged on the flimsiest pretexts, and the men fear that others are to follow. According to International President S. J. Koenekamp of the American Telegraphers' union, who is in the city, Marconi operators in other cities are well organized and ready for developments also.

JOHN D. AND ADOLPH SPRECKLES SCORING IN BIG WILL CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The second victory within a month for John D. and Adolph Spreckles over Rudolph and Claus Spreckles in a fight over the will of their father, the late Claus Spreckles, was recorded today when Judge Sewell sustained a demurrer entered by John and Adolph to a complaint for an accounting by them of gifts by their father. Claus and Rudolph based the complaint on the allegation that when their father was at outs with them, he gave their brothers six and one-half millions of his fortune, in excess of his own community interest in the same.

Useful Mirror for Skirts (or Trousers!)
In the April Woman's Home Companion, in a department called "The Exchange," which contains good housekeeping ideas, appears the following:

"A mirror attached to the inside of the closet door near the floor will be found useful for dressing or dress-making. The glass measures about eight by fourteen inches and rests on two curtain rod hooks screwed into the door about four inches from the bottom. The upper edge of the glass can be securely fastened by a tack. Much depends upon the angle at which the mirror reflects—the longer the hooks the better the results when the glass is in place."

How to Remove Fish Bones
To remove bones from either fresh or salt fish, while raw, take the headless fish in the left hand, split down the back; with the right thumb carefully push the meat from the flesh side of the backbone, then gently force the thumb between the backbone and the skin of the fish from head to tail; now gently pull sideways and the ribs adhering to the backbone will come out with it. All the remaining bones can be removed by catching them between the thumb and the sharp blade of a knife. If the fish are salt they must be freshened before being boned.

MIXED RACES FOR APRIL 27

Harry Harris Is Getting Things
In Shape for Afternoon of Speed Events

Harry Harris is making arrangements for a matinee race meet for Sunday afternoon, April 27. Harris is going to make the affair different from anything else that has been held at the Santa Ana race track. He is going to have at least three kinds of races, possibly four.

Fifteen or sixteen horses are to be entered for various events. A number of local owners of fast horses are always on the lookout for chances to try their horses against each other, and they have gladly entered for the races of April 27.

The meet is not going to be for horses only. Motorcycles are to be entered for some fast runs.

Perhaps the revival of bicycle racing, even though it be but for a day, will prove of as much interest, as anything else. Harris has a number of youngsters hereabouts interested in this meet, and already some of them are training for the contests of the afternoon.

Harris has a plan on foot for a match race between two automobiles. As yet definite arrangements have not been entered into, but it is probable that an automobile event of some kind will be arranged.

I Cure PILES
Fistula and All Rectal Diseases
WITHOUT AN OPERATION
I Guarantee to Cure Every Case I Accept for Treatment.
For twenty-five years I have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time my experience as hospital and railroad surgeon, as college lecturer and professor, has enabled me to develop a method that is superior to all others. I cure without surgery and my patients are never confined in bed and never lose a moment's time from their business.
With my method I absorb pile tumors by medication, applied (or driven in,) by a mild electric current. The piles are absorbed in a few treatments, leaving the rectum in a healthy, normal condition. There is no danger, no bad after effects and no pain or soreness.
My method is not a "home cure" or a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatment administered by me in my office.
If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, I invite you to investigate my method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of my cured patients. If you will call at my office I will be pleased to give you the names and addresses of my well-known Los Angeles people I have cured, whom you may interview in regard to my treatment.
I TREAT NO DISEASES EXCEPT THOSE OF THE RECTUM AND BOWELS
WELL KNOWN DENTIST CURED
For twenty years I suffered with a severe rectal trouble which was caused by being almost constantly on my feet. The pain from this affliction has at times incapacitated me from professional duties. Dr. C. H. White, with his solvent method, has entirely cured me and I am as well as I ever was in my life. I desire to say to all sufferers that Dr. White is a skillful physician and is doing grand good work for humanity in the curing of diseases of the lower bowel.
DR. R. K. DUNN, Dentist, Sawtelle, Cal.
PROMINENT SANTA MONICA MINISTER CURED
This is to certify that Dr. C. H. White has cured me of a distressing hemorrhoidal ailment of 25 years duration. His method of treatment is effective but not severe. He has the appliances—the knowledge and skill both of many years of specializing in this fruitful source of physical distress. He accomplishes all he claims in his advertising and at reasonable expense. I take pleasure in heartily commending the man and his methods.

SANTA ANA MAN CURED
Dr. White cured me of protruding and irritating piles from which I have suffered for years. The cure was rapid and practically painless. I am highly pleased with this absorbent and dissolving method of cure.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

ECONOMICS MEETING

New Phase of Economics Discussed by Women of Fifth Section of Ebell Club

The fifth section of the Household Economics Club met at the home of Mrs. E. R. Majors of South Main street yesterday afternoon. Almost every member was present and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

An interesting feature of this section is to embrace a new line of thought in connection with the regular culinary course of study, and the topic brought forth at yesterday's meeting was the matter of economy in dress. A number of instructive articles from noted authorities on dress were read and followed by brief discussions, which proved helpful and worthy of consideration. One article at least bore a valuable suggestion; that conspicuousness or guerdiness in dress does not bespeak modesty, wealth or taste, but rather reveals a lack of same, or even more—a lack of good breeding.

Miss May read a splendid paper on The Value of Vegetables and How to Prepare Them for Cooking. Mrs. Majors gave a number of pleasing selections on the piano. Then came the serving of refreshments by the committee of hostesses.

The color scheme of the golden poppy used in the house decorations was carried out in the three-course repast served daintily and deftly by the ladies of the committee, in charge of who, besides the hostess, were Mesdames McElree, Miller, May and Nimmo.

Mrs. McMath and Mrs. Claytor were guests of the club.

King's Daughters
Saturday afternoon the King's Daughters of the First Methodist Sunday school, with their teacher, Mrs. Webber, met at the spacious home of Ethel Klatt, on East Seventeenth street.

The business meeting considered further the contest already begun in the class and reports from various committees were received.

The following program was then enjoyed:

Reading from "Ann of Green Gables," Alice Saunby; recitation, "Dot Baby of Mine," Hilda Gibbons; piano solo, Stella Anderson; select reading, "The School Master's Guest," Iva Webber; vocal solo, Ethel Klatt.

Dainty refreshments were served, and an hour of sociability, amidst the wealth of outdoor joys, followed.

Those present were: Sarah Snow, Stella Anderson, Alice Saunby, Iva Webber, Hilda Gibbons, Mildred Severance, Nellie Irvine, Ethel and Rosette Klatt.

Successful Social

Approximately two hundred people attended the social of members and congregation of the United Presbyterian Church last night at the church. A program in charge of Miss Mabel McFadden included piano duets by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner, a vocal solo by Miss Ely and a reading by Miss Winifred Roberts.

Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served, concluding a successful evening.

Clover Club

Mrs. T. B. Elliott, assisted by her niece, Miss Blythe Crawford of Ogden, Utah, who is a guest at the Elliott home on Bush street, entertained the Clover Club in its meeting this week. Poppies were used to carry out a color scheme of yellow, the same color being used in the refreshments.

Mesdames Newton, Park, Syester Knight of Orange and Mesdames Frank Miller, Eckley, Hill, Will Elliott of Santa Ana were present. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Hill in two weeks.

Sewing Club Entertained

Miss Marvel Baker was hostess Thursday to the sewing club to which she belongs. The home was prettily decorated and light refreshments were served in the late afternoon.

The guests of Miss Baker were Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mrs. Cecil Durbin, Mrs. Hugh Plumb, Mrs. Edward Nelson, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Erwin Bates, Misses Lena and Hazel Thomas, Verna Peterson, Andrews, Florence Mullinix, Ethel Roper, Martha Swartzlander.

WHY NOT?

Jacques Worth, Parisian fashion king, announces that the slim girl will continue in style, but derides the "slashed skirt." Why should he object to the latter? Skirt-bottoms have become so narrow that something has to split, if women are really to walk, and it is certainly better to have the slit made discreetly, by the dressmaker, than to trust to accidental rips. The only objection to the slash, when it was sought to be introduced a few years ago, was the natural shrinking from reckless revelation. But that is ended now. There is nothing left unrevealed. It is merely a choice of the methods of revealing. The "slashed skirt," or the "harem trousers" will add nothing to present sartorial bipedalism. They will certainly be more comfortable, and they will probably be more modest, than anything we have seen for some time.

W. R. C. BENEFIT TEA

Good Attendance; Good Program; Fine Spread; Generous Sum Realized

A good attendance marked the tea given yesterday afternoon by the W. R. C. for the benefit of the flood sufferers, and well repaid were those who attended the successful affair.

The Garden Grove members of the Corps had charge of the afternoon and they furnished one of the best programs that has ever been presented before W. R. C. gatherings in Santa Ana. With the Garden Grove delegation was Mrs. Moss of somewhere on the Northern Pacific coast, who is now visiting Santa Ana's neighboring little city. Mrs. Moss proved to be a host in herself, furnishing practically the entire program. She gave several guitar selections, beautifully played, then recited again and again for the delighted company. The program closed with the singing of "The Ninety and Nine" by Mrs. Moss and her father. The capable lady from the north certainly earned the gratitude of Santa Ana W. R. C. yesterday by her giving so freely of her versatile talents.

The Garden Grove ladies further demonstrated their excellent ability as managing hostesses by spreading a real feast for the visitors. They had brought with them from the garden spot where they reside, a generous menu which included baked beans, salads, pickles, sandwiches and home-made cake. Then they provided delicious coffee to serve with the appetizing viands. This generous menu was furnished for the modest sum of ten cents a plate. It is believed the W. R. C. will vote that the Garden Grove ladies be made a standing committee of entertainment.

A goodly sum was realized for the benefit fund.

Miss Carey Was Hostess

The Amicus Club was entertained at its regular meeting this week by Mrs. Charles Carey, needlework, conversation and refreshments being the order of the afternoon.

They Played Whist

At the home of Mrs. Arthur Lyon, Mrs. Alice Harris was hostess Thursday afternoon to the following ladies of the Duplicate Whist Club: Mesdames Sherman Stevens, Arthur Lyon, John Tubbs, Jas. S. Rice, Ben Turner, Fred Rafferty, W. E. Winslow; Misses Boyd and Dresser.

Santa Anas at Conference

Rev. Chas. H. Seccombe, formerly of Santa Ana, as state superintendent of teacher training, gave an address on "The Significance of the New Movement for Religious Education" yesterday at the Los Angeles Sunday School convention in session at Santa Monica with 500 delegates present. Mr. Seccombe also addressed one of the sectional meetings on "Work for Boys."

Rev. Paul Stevens of Santa Ana spoke before the adult section on "The Creating of a Missionary Atmosphere."

DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

Eastern Singers and Clarence A. Gustin Charm Audience at Superior Recital

The recital given last night at the First Presbyterian Church with Mesdames MacDonald as vocalists, from the Middle West, and Clarence A. Gustin, pianist, was one of the most artistic and high class musical events heard at any time in Santa Ana. The program was of high character and every number was a gem. A most appreciative audience that filled the church auditorium was delighted with the beautiful singing of the Mesdames MacDonald and Mr. Gustin's piano playing. The program given below indicates the musical treat given to the hearers:

"Power Eternal" from Stabat Mater (Rossini), Mesdames MacDonald.

(a) "Fair Jeanette" (Abt) (b) "Passage Bird" (Forsell) (Hildach), Mesdames MacDonald.

Piano Solo—"Spinning Song" (Wagner-Liszt), Mr. Clarence A. Gustin.

(a) "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" (House), (b) "Awake" (Pelissier), Mesdames MacDonald.

(a) "You and I" (Liza Lehmann) (b) "Rondelet" (Lidgely) (c) "Summer Time" (d) "Come Be My Love" (Footie) Mesdames MacDonald.

"Calm as the Night" (Bohm).

(a) "The Sweet of the Year" (Mary Turner Salter) (b) "Fairies' Lullaby" (Alice Needham), Mrs. Edith Sage MacDonald.

Piano Solo—Concert Etude (de Schlozer), Mr. Clarence A. Gustin.

"Benediction's Dream" (arr. by A. Scott, Gode), (b) "To the Be-throthed" (arr. by S. R. Gaines, Far-rarri).

Bridge Luncheon

Yellow, that rich tint which nature used so generously in her color scheme, is a favorite color with hostesses in these spring days. It was the dominant tint in the house and table decorations at the charming luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Philip Hatfield, African daisies were massed judiciously in a brown basket for the table centerpiece, making a rich glow of color.

Following the 1 o'clock luncheon, Mrs. Hatfield and her guests played bridge whist. Mrs. Roscoe Whitted achieved high score, receiving as a trophy a yellow party bag. Mrs. Fred Fuller was given a vanity bag for consolation.

The guest list included the following: Mesdames Russell Scott, W. L. Grubb, Clyde Walker, Roscoe Whitted, A. W. Rutan, G. S. Briggs, Fred Fuller, W. F. Lutz, E. S. Morrow, Robt. Shafer, O. K. Forgy, C. S. Kendall, Fred Ross.

Ebell Music Section

The Ebell Music Section met on Monday, April 14, at the home of Miss C. E. Dresser, 115 East Tenth street. This will be a social as well as study meeting and all members are asked to attend.

Spring Vacation Days

Spring vacation time is here for the several hundred children of the Santa Ana city schools, the spring vacation lasting through next week. Many families will go to the beaches that their children may have the pleasures and benefits of a seaside outing. Others of the students and some of the teachers will visit friends in nearby cities or towns. The week's vacation will be a welcome breathing spell for both teachers and students.

On Camping Trip

Miss Mary Ely, Miss Fannie Smart, Miss Ruth Larson, Miss May Snare, Miss Louise Grouard, Miss Faith and Margery Shaw, and Miss Harriett Wollaston have gone to Santiago canyon for a camping out expedition. The young women are chaperoned by Mr. Snare, father of Miss May Snare. The party will remain till the middle of next week.

A Week at Balboa

Dr. A. R. Hervey and J. D. Parsons have bought the A. J. Visele cottage at Balboa and the first use of the new seaside residence will be during the spring vacation of the city schools next week.

The Herveys will take their children to Balboa for the entire week. It is needless to say that the time is being looked forward to with joyous anticipation by the youngsters, and it is not unlikely that the older ones of the party will enjoy the week at the seaside equally as well as the children.

Parents and Teachers Meet

McKinley Parent-Teacher's Association had a well-attended meeting Thursday afternoon in the Kindergarten room, hearing an excellent address by Principal McMath of the high school on the Savings Bank System in School. A program of recitations and music was given as follows:

"Lead, Kindly Light," eighth grade; music, Hill trio; recitation, Margaret Leighton; piano solo, Sarah Sebastian; recitation, William Holden; solo, Mina James; recitation, Dora Gherkin; recitation, Blanche Hanks; duet, Alice and Inez Noes; recitation, Lyle Roberts; song, third grade pupils.

Death Won in the Race

Mrs. Lea Warren received word this afternoon from her niece, Miss Grace White, who was called to San Jose on Wednesday last by a telegram announcing her mother's critical illness, that her mother died at 2:15 Thursday morning before Miss White reached San Jose at 9 o'clock of the same day.

Miss White will have the sympathy of her friends here in her deep loss. She has had more than the usual share of misfortune within the past few months, and this sorrow comes as a climax to these.

Didn't Wish It Sent

The precise but somewhat broken English of Madame Schumann-Heink is one of her charms. While in a western city she found herself in immediate need of toilet powder. In her practical way she stepped into a store herself to buy it. "Will you have it scented?" inquired the clerk.

"No, I will take it vid me," crisply replied the great singer.—Spokane Chronicle.

A Delicate Point

They are a happy couple. They haven't been married very long. In fact, the honeymoon has barely ended, says the Pittsburgh Post.

An elderly friend met the bridegroom downtown yesterday and slapped him on the back.

"Well, happy as a lark, I suppose?" "Oh, yes."

"How's the cooking?" "I have one trouble. It's just this—my wife has been preparing angel food every day for dinner."

"You must be getting tired of it."

"I am. Yet I feel a hesitancy about saying anything. How soon after the honeymoon would it be proper to ask for beefsteak and onions?"

No Carnage, No Fun

Clarence Alcott, the Yale coach, comforted a slightly injured half-back on the side lines at New Haven with a football story.

"Once upon a time," said Alcott, patting the brawny shoulder of the sufferer, "there was a wonderful Thanksgiving Day game between two great varsities."

Herd to Be Driven From Tehachapi to Palo Verde to Fatten for L. A. Market

The growth of Los Angeles, one of the marvels of the young century, is giving impetus to many phases of stock-raising and feeding that have been more or less dormant for many years. One of these is sheep raising and fattening. Apropos of this particular industry the Los Angeles Tribune announces that six thousand sheep to be fattened for the Los Angeles market, will shortly be moved from the Tehachapi region to the Palo Verde district along the Colorado river, where they will spend the next three months of more feeding in the river bottoms. The Hauser Packing Company, which owns the big herd, is now preparing to transport the sheep.

HELENA, Mont., April 12.—After tomorrow boxing will be legalized in Montana. The bill permitting the sport under state supervision, which the recent legislature passed and the governor signed, will be in effect then and it is expected to result in a revival of the fight game in the state. LOS ANGELES SMASHES A BUILDING RECORD

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Los Angeles building figures for March smashed another record, according to the report of the Construction News, made public yesterday, which shows that permits for 1671 buildings, at an estimated cost of $3,034,231, were issued during the month.

In March, 1912, there were permits for 1137 buildings at an estimated cost of $1,687,780.

This shows that March, 1913, has made a gain of 80 per cent over the same period of the preceding year, and puts Los Angeles well in the front rank of the prosperous cities that are forging ahead at a remarkable rate.

GOV. HUNT VETOES PENAL CODE

Amendment Contained Proviso That Practically Removed Pardoning Power of Executive

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 12.—Because it practically removed the pardoning power of the chief executive, Governor Hunt has vetoed the revised penal code of Arizona as embodied in a bill passed by the legislature after several weeks' work.

BALLOON UP PHOTOS TAKEN

Twenty Negatives Secured by Air-Man Who Went Up in Captive Balloon

This morning twenty photographs were made of Santa Ana from a balloon that went up from a point near the gas works. The photos are being taken for the Los Angeles Times, to be used by it at some later date.

The balloon has been in twenty or twenty-five cities of Southern California. The outfit is in charge of Neil Hampton, an experienced balloon man. The big gas bag is towed from town to town by a motor truck to which it is attached. It arrived here yesterday from Corona.

This morning Hampton ascended between 1,000 and 1,500 feet. R. H. Varicle of Santa Ana, a clerk in a Main street store, was given an ascension by Hampton. Varicle has had experience in aviation and at present is building a plane here, which he expects to be flying soon.

FIRST OF GOOD ROADS MONEY IN BANK

Treasurer Received $308,- 116.88 From the Bond Buyers' Representatives

CASHIER'S CHECK IS GIVEN JOPLIN

Money for Building Roads is Now Available—More is Likely to Come Soon

County Treasurer J. C. Joplin turned into the First National Bank yesterday the sum of $308,116.88, which was the first money received on the $1,270,000 good roads bonds voted by Orange county.

There were 301 bonds signed by T. B. Talbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and C. D. Lester, county auditor, and turned over by the county treasurer yesterday afternoon to return to the representatives of the bond buyers. The payment of $308,116.88 represented $301,000 for the amount represented on the face of the bonds, $5,499.66 premium and $1,672.22 accrued interest.

The buyers selected these bonds from various portions of the issue. That is, part of them are early-maturing bonds and some of them come along toward the last. The last of the bonds of this issue mature in thirty-two years.

This money is now available for use by the County Highway Commission for the carrying out of the plan for building a good roads system in which 107 miles of roads will be improved.

Treasurer Joplin accepted a cashier's check from the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Co. for the amount due for the bonds that were delivered. The buyers have placed most of these bonds with capitalists in and around San Francisco. It is understood that about twenty-five of the bonds are to be purchased by the La Habra Valley Bank of Brea.

There remain 969 bonds to be signed and delivered. These are not to be delivered at this time, the buyers waiting until they can place them to advantage before calling for them.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Investigation of the destruction of a cargo of Australian beef, which was drenched with kerosene, has been started by Mayor Rolph and at the instigation of members of the San Francisco board of health. The cargo had been passed by the federal authorities. Mayor Rolph called a meeting of the Retail Butchers' Association to discuss the affair and try to probe it to the bottom. He agrees with the generally expressed opinion that the meat was destroyed to maintain the present high price.

PROPOSED ERECTION OF FURNACE FACTORY ON A GOOD SITE IN SANTA ANA

The Company Will Promote Enterprise Founded Upon
Calhoun's Patent

A new industry is promised for Santa Ana. It is a plant for the making of furnaces to be built under W. H. Calhoun's double syphon draft principle. The name of the company is The Iowa Furnace Co., which has been capitalized for $25,000, and in which stock is now being sold.

This company has the virtue of being organized and promoted by local men. The plan has been laid before the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and has been given an endorsement. A site is to be furnished for the proposed enterprise. It is expected that from the first the plant will employ from eight to twelve men, with possibilities of far greater proportions being reached as the business grows.

This company is organized with the following officers, residents of Santa Ana: President, W. H. Calhoun; vice-president, G. L. Wilber; secretary, C. R. Munson; treasurer, A. C. Black, and general manager, S. L. Wedgewood.

W. H. Calhoun was a former citizen of Marshalltown, Iowa. His home paper in speaking of him when he was leaving for California said he was one of the leading pioneer merchants of his city. He was one of the city council at the time the city built its water works and was one of a committee of three to install the system, which the city owns. The city's ownership is largely due to Calhoun's efforts. He was one who helped largely in securing the Iowa Central railway and machine shops of that road for Marshalltown. He served some eight years on the city council of his city.

G. L. Wilber, vice-president, was formerly a traveling salesman for the Lenox Furnace company, and understands the furnace business. He is one of the firm of the Crescent Hardware company.

C. R. Munson, the secretary, is an insurance agent of this city.

A. C. Black, the treasurer, is a builder and contractor.

S. L. Wedgewood, the general manager, is a thorough mechanic, having been in the employ of the Lenox Furnace company as designer and pattern maker for furnaces for seventeen or eighteen years.

The report of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce committee upon this proposition follows:

To the Chamber of Commerce, Santa Ana, Cal.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana to investigate a principle of a hot-air furnace with Calhoun Patent-Improved Double Syphon Draft Installed, submit the following report:

First. We find by the use of the Double-Syphon Draft that a much cleaner fire can be made, as it consumes a large part of the smoke, soot and gas.

Second. By throwing the draft on the center of the body of fire, a much greater amount of heat can be obtained for the amount of fuel consumed than is possible by the old method of making fire.

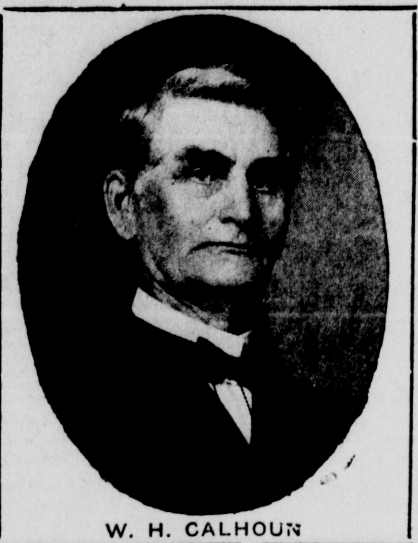

Third. A much better radiation of heat is secured than with the under-draft.

Fourth. By the use of the Double Syphon Draft the circulation of heat is retained in the furnace as long as the fire lasts, instead of being drawn out of the top of the chimney.

Therefore your committee believes the appliance is practical, and the patentee is thoroughly honest and reliable.

Signed: F. P. NICKEY, Chairman,
E. E. VINCENT,
A. C. BLACK.

PLACENTIA LIKELY TO HAVE MARKET DAY

Merchants Are Talking of Inaugurating Enterprise to Get Farmers to Town

The story in last week's Courier about Market Day has brought a ready response from a number of ranchers and they all expressed a desire to have the town inaugurate a Market Day. It gives a day when the ranchers may come to town and meet one another, exchange ideas and get acquainted, and the events provide something for amusement and diversion.

Mr. Dorsby stated that back in his Kansas home the day was a great event and the members of the family used to take turns in staying at home to look after the stock so the rest could go to town. "We ranchers don't come to town much," he said, "because there is nothing to come for, but a Market Day with a few events would be a great drawing card, as well as the opportunity to meet and get acquainted with our fellow ranchers."

In addition to many possibilities the day would provide a means for the ranchers to dispose by auction, trade, etc., of produce, stock, implements not necessary, etc.

It will be necessary for the business men to provide a small monthly appropriation to be used for prizes and other expenses of the occasion and the Courier expects to publish next week a complete list of Placentia firms and residents who have contributed to the enterprise.

KITE FLYING TOURNAMENT

Pupils of McKinley School Engaged in Interesting Contest Yesterday

McKinley school held a unique kite flying contest on the grounds of the new Polytechnic High School on Friday afternoon. The grammar grade teachers offered eight boxes of candy for prizes and seventy competitors entered. The rules of the contest were that each child should make his own kite, could enter but two and might enter one with a partner. The teachers were much pleased when ten girls entered and one girl, Naomi Taylor, took the prize for the kite going the highest. Her kite was especially well made and neat and was purchased by a spectator after the tournament.

Some kites met with accidents and some failed to fly because the wind was not favorable.

The judges were Prof. McMath, Mr. Ernest Phillips and Mr. Gonzales, who received boxes of candy similar to those that were awarded.

The prizes were as follows:

1. For kite going the highest, Naomi Taylor.
2. For most artistic kite, Dare Johnson.
3. The largest kite (a seven-foot one), Cecil Moon.
4. For smallest kite (a three-inch one), Clare Taylor.
5. For the most messengers, Robert Gerwing.
6. For best parachute drop, Robert Gerwing and Dis Burruel.
7. For box kite, Ernest Bissett.
8. For best tailless kite, Thomas Lovelady.

GETTING READY TO PRESENT PROTESTS

Some Westminster and Garden Grove People Do Not Want to Be in District

MASS MEETINGS HAVE BEEN HELD

Hearing Before Supervisors on May 6 Promises to Bring Out
Big Gathering

The meeting of the Board of Supervisors on May 6 promises to be a lively affair, for there are going to be a lot of protestants on hand to attend the hearing on the petition for the formation of the proposed Security Protection District. The meeting will probably be larger than any the courthouse has been called upon to house for a long time.

The principal protestants come from the Westminster and Garden Grove sections, their objections being based upon the theory that those places are not subject to overflow from the Santa Ana river even should that river break from its banks between Yorba and West Orange.

Mass meetings have been held in both Westminster and Garden Grove. Westminster started the protest movement. Committees have been appointed at both places and remonstrances are being circulated for signatures. The remonstrances are not against the formation of the district but they are against including the lands of the signers in the boundaries of the proposed district.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR VISITS BOYHOOD HOME

Orange Post: On Friday of last week, Professor Paul Arnold, head of the mathematical department of the University of Southern California, stopped off at Orange to look around the place and call on a few old friends. He was on his way from Los Angeles to Anaheim, via the Pacific Electric, to act as judge in the oratorical contest at Anaheim. L. W. Hemphill took the visitor in his automobile for quite an extended ride about Orange and he called at the office of the Post and upon such other friends as he had time to see.

Paul Arnold is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Arnold, early residents of Orange. Mr. Arnold formerly owned the wooden store building which stood at the southeast corner of the plaza square, the present site of the Campbell block; here he carried on a successful general merchandise business for many years. Mr. Arnold was a leading citizen in the community and a prominent member of the Christian church. The children all received their early education in the Orange schools and were bright pupils, the boys, Paul and David, being exceptionally proficient in mathematics. The family later moved to Los Angeles, where Mr. Arnold engaged in the real estate and brokerage business. Both the sons finished their education in Germany, after studying several years in institutions in this state and in the east. David Arnold is now at the head of the mathematical department of a girls' high school in New York City, said to be the largest girls' school in the world. A new building has just been completed for the school at a cost of $1,000,000. Martha Arnold, the eldest daughter, is a teacher in the Los Angeles city schools, living with her parents. Mary, now Mrs. Austin O. Martin, lives in Los Angeles, where her husband deals in real estate on a large scale, including the purchase of oil lands, etc. Alice, the youngest, a native of Orange, is now the wife of Charles R. Lewers of San Francisco, an attorney in the employ of the Southern Pacific company. He is at present engaged upon a very important case which takes him to various eastern cities for the collection of evidence. Just now, Mr. and Mrs. Lewers are in New York City.

Orange friends are rejoiced to know of the prosperity of the members of this esteemed family and are sure that sons and daughters are honoring their early training and "making good," not only socially and financially but also in genuine, old-fashioned integrity and usefulness.

CITIES SHOULD SEE THE LINKS COMPLETED

Orange News: One of the conditions which the state highway commission have laid down to all municipalities through which the great road is to pass is that the sections lying within the confines of the town, and therefore not built by the state, be filled in by the municipality so that there be no interruption of bad streets on the highway route.

Unfortunately the county highway commission is not in a position to make the same conditions to municipalities lying on the proposed county highway system, so that it is possible that a main thoroughfare built by the county, may be interrupted by miserable streets within a municipality.

Of course, such a condition is unthinkable in a city of any pretension of progressiveness, but, nevertheless, in case such a situation should arise, the county highway commission's hands are tied. It depends entirely upon the attitude of the trustees of the town, or upon the temper of the citizens, whether or not the city's con-

The Sunday School Lesson

As Taught at the Bible Institute of Los Angeles by Rev. J. H. Sammis.

LESSON II, April 13.

Jacob at Bethel—Gen. 28:10-22
I. Harvesting. (Gal. 6:7; Prov. 13:15)

1. God clears from sin's legal, not wholly from its natural results.
2. No blessing came from bargaining and scheming for the blessing. Peace in heart and home was broken. Isaac's trust in his wife, Esau's love for his mother, Jacob's respect for her, his fellow conspirator, and the patriarch's communion with Jehovah, all were sadly shaken. Esau would kill Jacob; Jacob feared Esau; Rebekah dreaded bereavement of both, the one as a victim, the other as a murderer.
3. Still scheming. Error gives birth to error. Rebekah was not yet chastened. To cover Jacob's flight she professed concern for her son's marriage (godly parents, at least, should deeply sympathize in this). Rebekah's fault was insincerity with her husband. Nor could sparing Isaac knowledge of Esau's purpose excuse her. No deception is excusable. No excuse can avert the consequences.

II. JACOB'S EXILE.
1. His parting blessing. Isaac (a) charged Jacob as to yielding with unbelievers; a principle threatening the Bible (Deut. 22:19-21; 2 Cor. 6:14; 1 Cor. 7:39), the violation of which led to the apostasy of the antediluvians, the theocracy, and threats of that of the church. Laban's family were professed (ch. 29:32, 33, 35), but inconsistent (ch. 31:9). Jehovah's (b) Isaac in the name of God Almighty, gave Jacob the blessing of Abraham and dismissed him. (c) Nothing is said of his mother's blessing. Could she not say, "God bless you?" Was she gagged by guilt? As with Jacob, "One cried, 'God bless us!' and 'Amen' the other; When they did say 'God bless us!' Wherefore could not I pronounce 'Amen'?" I had most need of blessing, and 'Amen' stuck in my throat."

Let us hope Rebekah's grief was mingled with contrition, and that in "breaking Home Ties," the healing of a mother's benediction followed the wanderer. Father, mother, only the heart of peace can speak peace.
2. His journey. Its direction—north 55 miles to Bethel (then Luz), 400 to Haran, retracing the course of Abraham to the Lord's land, whence Jacob was going contrary to Abraham's counsel (ch. 24:6).
3. His thoughts. A lonely man, on a lonely road, with home and friends behind him, and an unknown world and fortune before his thoughts, thoughts that mellow his feelings, and search his conscience, and recall his past relations and dealings, and often produce contrition, confession and conversion; followed by an appeal to heaven for pardon and protection. In this frame, we think Jacob and twilight met at Bethel. From the vale the wanderer scanned the rock-shelved declivity; the slope was gilded by the fading ray, and the summit glorious far above. With his thoughts and the scene in mind Jacob said: (7) Though like a wanderer, The sun gone down, Darkness be over me, My rest a stone, Yet in my dreams I'd be Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee.

And it was so. The sheen on the mountain-side became "Steps unto heaven;" the glory of sun-kissed summit the enshrouded Jehovah Himself, and "It was not all a dream." (See Gen. 15:12-20; Isa. 63a; Dan. 2:19-23; Rev. 1:9-17; Acts 7:56; John 1:51). Like the scene at Bethel, the rocks, the sea, the shimmering and reddening sun, at Patmos, seem to be the fable woven into the imagery of Revelations.

4. His dream. (1) A way from earth to heaven, from exile to glory. "I am the way," said Jesus, ascending to and opening heaven. (2) Angels "ascending and descending"—not "descending" as if just approaching, but "ascending" as from finished ministry, and descending with new mercies. Gracious God! Such subjects as Jacob and we, the objects of such a ministry. (3) "Jehovah stood above it" ("beside him," A. R. V. marg.). It was "our Jesus;" and "It's just like Jesus." Read the consoling words, verses 13-15. This is the gospel of grace. If Jacob's sin and meanness were not so fully evidenced in contrast with Jehovah's unabated favor which of us could say, "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners?" Note particularly, (a) "I am with thee" (Matt. 28:20; Heb. 13:5). (b) "The ground," "to thee," the "ground" to Jacob means the resurrection of Jacob. (c) "Bring again in to this land." Jacob was a type of family and of national Israel. Note the many analogies of Jacob's exile and at Laban's with the exile and bondage in Egypt, to the Chaldeans, and now everywhere among the Gentiles. The promise holds; God has not forsaken; He keeps; He will restore "to the land" (Rom. 11:2; Ezek. 37:12-14, etc.).

5. His awe. Such a vision naturally filled Jacob with worshipful awe. "God . . . I knew it not." Not as many, that he thought Jehovah a house of tribal God! All the preceding shows he knew God as "Judge of all the earth," the "Almighty" and therefore All-present. A child saw an atheist's inscription, "God is nowhere," and read it, "God is now here." "Tell me," said a bishop, "where God is." "I will," said the boy, "when you tell me where He is not." We are always in Bethel ("God's house") and He is always at home.
6. His vow. Did Jacob say, "Since God . . . I will," or "If God . . . I will." The Hebrew allows either. If he said the former he was right, for God's goodness deserves our service; if the latter (the addition "should and rainment") of which God said nothing favors this. He was wrong, vitally wrong, evangelically wrong, shamefully wrong. We can drive no bargains with God. He deals in gifts, graces, and we can but give "grace for grace." Shall I vow who know not what a day may bring forth, and who should have "no confidence in the flesh?"

Investment Certificates

Backed by a Strong Company

Money at interest is the foundation of wealth. The sooner you begin to invest your savings or surplus funds where they will grow, the sooner you will achieve independence.
We have devised a plan of investment which combines convenience with absolute safety, and which insures 6 per cent interest on every dollar deposited with us.
The plan provides "Investment Certificates," which are issued in any amount desired, and upon which the interest is paid quarterly. This form of investment enables a person to place idle funds on a substantial earning basis; with the privilege of withdrawing same at any time by giving reasonable notice of such intention, without loss of interest or principal.
The sum invested and the interest are guaranteed; and to back this guarantee, the company pledges its entire resources.
The Guarantee Building & Investment Company is a corporation, doing business under the laws of California. The company has published an interesting booklet showing the scope of its Real Estate, Building and Investment operations in Los Angeles and vicinity. A copy of this booklet will be mailed upon request.

CONTESTS IN BEAN GROWING

College of Agriculture Has Novel Method for Engaging Their Attention

Contestants Must Grow at Least Twenty-Five Hills Lima Beans

California is famous for the production of dried beans, the farm value of the crop in an average season amounting to nearly $10,000,000. The very favorable climatic conditions enjoyed by a narrow strip of the Southern California coast, ranging from San Luis Obispo to San Diego county, gives this state the reputation of being the greatest lima bean growing country in the world. In the interior of these coast counties as well as up and down the great Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, limas cannot be grown commercially, but other varieties of beans thrive and are produced on an extensive scale, over one million sacks being harvested in some years.

It behooves every loyal Californian, therefore, to have an intelligent understanding and appreciation of the importance of this great food producing plant. It is, therefore, also, that every boy and girl studying agriculture should take an active interest in bean production and improvement. It is the purpose of a circular issued by the College of Agriculture at Berkeley and just received at this office, to suggest a method for the systematic study of bean culture and to give a few brief directions for growing the crop.

Most boys and girls, like grown-ups, can do better work when they are matching their knowledge or skill against that of others. To enter a contest at once places a contestant on his mettle, and, as in athletic events, he strives his utmost to win just for the fun of winning. The fact that prizes are offered will be only an additional incentive, tending to make the contest more interesting and profitable.

Because of the natural love of competition that exists among boys and girls, those who attend school in bean growing districts are encouraged to engage in a friendly contest to see who can grow the most productive bean vine. This competitive work is of such a nature that those living in the city are on an equal footing with those attending a country school.

The students taking part in these bean growing contests will have the opportunity to win prizes for themselves and bring honor to their schools and communities. What is more important, through their study and practice of the best cultural and plant improvement methods necessary to grow prize-winning beans, they will gain valuable information concerning the science of soils and plant growth that can be applied to other crops as well. Co-operation among men and women in every pursuit and occupation of life is the most encouraging movement of recent times and it is destined to be the most important factor in the development of a better and more efficient social and industrial life. Organized effort focuses the attention upon the task at hand, stimulates the desire for knowledge and inculcates the study habit. Club work among boys and girls is proving just as effective as the organized efforts of adults in promoting a wider and better knowledge of the art and science of agriculture.

The school affords an ideal place for all club and contest work to center and it is recommended that whenever five or more students in a school desire to enter a bean growing contest they organize a club with that end in view. It will not be necessary, however, for anyone to join a club in order to qualify in a contest. The formation of clubs is advised because numbers lend enthusiasm and co-operation engenders success.

The Bean Growing Contest will be in two divisions in order to give every boy and girl a better chance to win a prize. In the first division, the contest will be between the members of each school or community club and the prize winners in each local contest will again compete with the winners in the other club contests throughout the city or county. The general or county competitive exhibition, forming the second division of the contest, should be held in connection with the county or district agricultural fair whenever possible or a special school fair or exhibition may be organized for this purpose.

The character and value of the awards to be given in each instance will be determined by the advisory committee in charge of the district or local clubs and by the city or county superintendents of schools, or a committee designated by them, in case of the general contest.

Several awards, in cash or its equivalent, ranging in value from first to fifth prize, will be given in each contest to the boys or girls who have grown, selected and exhibited the heaviest yielding bean vine. The prizes will be procured and awarded by the committee in charge of the respective contests. When two or more varieties are entered in a county contest there should be as many classes as varieties and approximate prizes should be offered in each.

Every contestant, whether winning a prize or not, who faithfully complies with all the contest regulations, will receive, as special recognition of his or her praiseworthy work, a Certificate of Merit, signed by the Dean, College of Agriculture, University of California.

In the city or county contest, a special prize in the form of a cup, medal or banner, will be awarded to that school, district, or community whose representatives make the most favorable showing.

1. Boys or girls, 18 years of age or younger, who meet all the requirements of the contest, may qualify and become eligible for the awards.

2. Each contestant shall actually grow at least 25 hills of lima beans (the pole type), or one hundred hills of white, pink, black-eye, or other varieties. Every variety grown should be handled under field culture conditions so far as possible. (For instance the running type of lima will not be penalized.)

3. Besides performing all the cultural operations incident to bean growing (save those tasks beyond the strength of boys and girls) contestants shall select and exhibit the one bean vine out of all those grown on their respective plots, which in their judgment, has produced the largest number of perfect beans.

4. A crop record or note book, describing all of the work done, from the preparation of the seed-bed to the harvesting of the crop, shall be prepared by each contestant, countersigned by the parent or teacher and filed as part of the exhibit.

5. Each contestant shall be allowed but one exhibit or entry in a contest.

6. In each school or district contest, only that variety of bean shall be grown that experience has shown to be the best adapted to the soil and climatic conditions of that section.

7. In a county or general contest, when two or more varieties are entered, all of the exhibits of a given variety shall be judged in a class by themselves.

8. All contest exhibits shall be judged by means of a score card. The same score card may be used for judging both the local and general exhibits, excepting that in the last named only the shelled beans shall be exhibited. The record books of prize winning contestants in local contests should be supplemented with a memorandum by the judge of the local contests, stating the actual number of pods and beans found on the prize winning vines.

9. Before contestants shall receive the Certificate of Merit, they must mail their record sheets or note books, containing all the information specified in the Crop Record Plan, to the Dean, College of Agriculture, University of California, Berkeley.

10. The advisory committee in charge of each local club contest shall make all arrangements for the exhibition that will mark the close of the contest, and for procuring and awarding of prizes. After the exhibits have been scored, the beans on the prize winning vines, which are to be picked off and shelled by the judge or some other disinterested party, are to be placed in a suitable container, together with the contestant's record sheet, and, after being securely sealed, mailed to the city or county superintendent of schools in charge of the general contest.

11. All exhibits are to be the property of the contestants at the close of the exhibition unless the advisory committee rules otherwise. It is suggested that all of the beans produced by the vines placed upon exhibition be saved by the contestants in order to plant a special bean improvement plot another year.

12. These regulations, insofar as they apply to any local or general contest, may be modified or changed at the discretion of the committee in charge.

SANTA ANA CONTRACTOR GETS ANAHEIM CONTRACT

The contract for the new residence of Mr. J. F. Ficus, of Anaheim, from plans prepared by Architect Fredk. H. Eley, was awarded to Mr. R. C. McMillan, of Santa Ana, the owner having satisfied himself that the high class of work executed by Mr. McMillan and the recommendation given him by the architect, and the owners of buildings put up by him, would justify awarding him the contract at a small preference over the lowest bid. The completed building will cost about $12,000. Mr. McMillan's bid for general contract being $9400.

Mr. McMillan is also remodeling the pool room and store building on West Fourth street, near the Rossmore, and has also been awarded the contract for a bungalow on Washington avenue for Mr. McKinsey.

New Statesmen to Direct Extra Session's Work

Only Three Men in the House Now Who Were in That Body When Democrats Were Last in Control of Government in 1893—Five Present Democratic Senators Then in House.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

The men who are legislating for and otherwise managing the affairs of the nation are new to responsibility. They have been in the minority all their political lives so far as national affairs are concerned.

In the house of representatives there are three men who were members when the Democrats were last in control of the government. They are Speaker Champ Clark, Jones of Virginia and Talbot of Maryland. In the senate there is no Democrat left who was a member of that body under the last Democratic administration; consequently the men in charge are new to national power.

There are five Democratic senators who were members of the house twenty years ago. They are Bankhead of Alabama, Smith of Arizona, Williams of Mississippi, Newlands of Nevada and Swanson of Virginia. As these men as well as the three still left in the house were new in congress twenty years ago, they took very little part in the momentous session when the silver purchase act was repealed and the Wilson tariff law was passed.

New Men at the Helm.

With the exception of Champ Clark there are new men at the helm in the house. The leader of the Democracy on the floor is Oscar W. Underwood, who has developed into presidential size since the last Democratic tariff law was passed. He has a corps of comparatively young and almost new lieutenants on the ways and means committee, among them being Francis Burton Harrison of New York, Shackelford of Missouri, Kitchen of North Carolina, Hammond of Minnesota, Peters of Massachusetts, Palmer of Pennsylvania, Ansherry of Ohio, Garner of Texas, Stanley of Kentucky, Rainey of Illinois and Dixon of Indiana. These men and their associates have drafted the tariff which will soon start on its tempestuous journey through congress.

Among other Democrats who have come to the front in the lapse of years between the last Democratic administration and the present and who will have much to say in shaping legislation are Fitzgerald, Goldfogle and George of New York; Kinkead, Hamill and McCoy of New Jersey; Clayton and Hobson of Alabama, Oldfield and Floyd of Arkansas, Baker of California, Taylor of Colorado, Sparkman and Clark of Florida, Adamson, Hardwick and Crisp of Georgia; Buchanan, Sabath and Graham of Illinois; Cullom, Moss, Adair and Barnhart of Indiana, Shorley of Kentucky, Brunsard and Estlin of Louisiana, McGillicuddy of Maine, Lewis of Maryland, Sisson and Humphreys of Mississippi, Rucker, Lloyd, Hensley and Boardman of Missouri; Small, Pen, Page and Webb of North Carolina; Sharpe and Ashbrooke of Ohio, Ferris and Carner of Oklahoma, Johnson and Lever of South Carolina, Moon, Padgett, Sims and Garrett of Tennessee; Beall, Henry, Slayden and Smith of Texas, and Jones, Saunders, Glass, Hay and Flood of Virginia.

Many others may come to the front in the Sixty-third congress, but the important point is that all these men named were not even considered possibilities when Grover Cleveland was inaugurated. They are only a few of that vast army of 2,000 congressmen who have marched on the field of national politics in the past twenty years. They belong to the new generation in politics, and they and their associates are in charge of the house of representatives in this extra session called by President Wilson.

Senate Shows a Change.

While a man who links the last with the present Democratic administration is at the head of the house of representatives, the senate has not only changed, but younger men are in charge. The new element has gone so far as to push that hoary old seniority rule into the background and given new men an opportunity to become leaders. A man who was unknown in politics twenty years ago has been made chairman of the caucus and leader, and another of the same type becomes president pro tempore of the senate. In the past those positions were accorded to "elder statesmen" by the party in control.

And so we see the senate in charge of Kern of Indiana as leader and Clarke of Arkansas presiding when the vice president is absent, while the men who are conducting affairs are O'Gorman of New York, Gore and Owen of Oklahoma, Stone of Missouri, Smith of Georgia, Lea of Tennessee, Smith of South Carolina, Chamberlain of Oregon, Shively of Indiana, Pomeroy of Ohio and others of such recent appearance in national politics as to make them almost unknown. They are smashing some senate traditions.

© 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

These men may not actually dominate the senate for the reason that this body has become unmanageable by any small coterie. Besides, the fact that they have climbed into power at the beginning of the administration has already engendered an ill feeling which may make it difficult to hold their positions permanently and which may also make Democratic legislation difficult.

The Old Order Passeth.

What a difference is noted now as compared with twenty years ago! Then the old timers on the Democratic side of the senate stepped into control. Gorman, Ransom, Harris, Voorhees, McPherson, Vest, Jones, Cockrell, Morgan, Daniel, Butler, George and a few others who had grown old in service stepped in and took their places, as had been the custom in years past, and managed the senate. Of course there developed a certain amount of opposition and ill feeling, but the tradition of seniority could not be broken. Even now it has not been entirely broken. Seniority controlled in the makeup of the committees.

As to the Republican side, there is a great change, but the old order still prevails. More than that, there is every indication of a "get together" policy on the part of the Republicans. Progressives have been treated like regulars. It marks a beginning, and it may mean a solid front on party matters before the session is very old. Still there is an absence of the Aldrich and Hale control. In their places are Gallinger, Lodge and Smoot, the latter the more active and energetic, but still the difference is so striking as to be remarkable.

East and West Combinations.

Combinations of western Democrats and another of eastern Democrats have been formed with a view of standing together for the interests they represent. Such combinations are of the "log rolling" character which have been condemned in times past. Usually the "log rolling" is for the purpose of getting something out of congress in the way of appropriations. The new combinations are believed to be for the purpose of preventing too radical cuts in the tariff on the products and industries of the states represented.

These combinations will fail, as all such have failed before. As soon as they become extensive enough to be powerful their interests are no longer common, but often diametrically opposed. The great grain producing region of the Mississippi valley is not interested in protecting the minerals of the Rocky mountains or the fruits of California. It has also been found that the eastern combination wants free raw materials and free agricultural products from Canada, which is just what the western men do not want.

Whipping Them Into Line.

President Wilson has been advised to hold back patronage for the purpose of "whipping into line" those Democrats who show a disposition to oppose the plans the leaders prepare. That is what Mr. Taft tried to do. His trouble was that certain Republicans wanted lower duties than the leaders would grant. The present trouble is that certain Democrats do not want as low duties as the leaders propose.

But patronage threats did not keep many Republicans from "insurgency" with the result that the greatest split the Republican party ever knew occurred. However, it was a more popular thing for the low tariff Republicans to become insurgent than it will be for the high tariff Democrats to break away from their party. Still there are quite a number of Democrats who say they will not consent to see the industries of their section injured by radical cuts in the tariff.

Power of the President.

But if the president really goes into this matter he will be very powerful. Every president is a power in his party, and the patronage club is generally effective. But what is most important is the fact that the people believe the president is right and stand by him rather than by the man they have elected to congress. Twenty years ago President Cleveland exhausted his patronage in causing the repeal of the silver purchase act and had none to use on the senate to prevent the Gormanizing of the Wilson tariff bill. The result was disastrous to the party.

President McKinley knew the congressional game and was skillful in the use of patronage. President Roosevelt relied both on patronage and the effect of public opinion to coerce congress. President Taft failed in the use of patronage, and public opinion sided with his opponents.

President Wilson is in a position to use both patronage and public opinion to gain such legislation as he desires to have passed.
